Introducing the web-based Sasria Rates Calculator

To Sasria Agents and Intermediaries

We are pleased to introduce the revised Sasria Web-based Calculator, going live on 31 January 2026. This forms part of our ongoing endeavours to simplify processes, improve accessibility, and enhance the way the industry calculates Sasria premiums.

For many years, the Excel-based calculator has been the main tool used to calculate premiums. Based on the feedback from our Brokers at our roadshows and Agent companies through the industry survey, it was evident that the tool is complicated and difficult to navigate. This feedback guided the development of this web-based rates calculator, which offers a streamlined user interface and is better suited to everyday rating needs.

As part of the development phase, a group of industry representatives were selected to test the web-based calculator, and their feedback has helped us further refine the tool to align with your needs. We are now ready to roll it out across the market.

Please note: The Excel-based calculator has now been removed and is no longer accessible. All calculations must be done using the web-based tool.

What you can expect from the web-based calculator

- The web-based calculator accommodates all Sasria rating rules in line with the regulations.
- There are no changes to Sasria's premium rules.
- The tool now automatically handles different rating scenarios, reducing the need for manual calculations.
- Manual work will no longer be required for situations involving co-insurance, voluntary deductibles, or different indemnity periods under the same BI option.
- Completed quotes can be downloaded for your records.

Accessing the calculator

Once the rates calculator is live, you will be able to access it on the Sasria website. The step-by-step process is explained in the user manual.

In the meantime, we have attached the user manual to this email to help you get familiar with the web-based calculator ahead of launch.

What's next:

On the 13th February 2026, we will host a webinar to gather your feedback. During the session, we will guide you through the tool, demonstrate key functions, and outline the updates. It will also provide an opportunity to raise any questions or share observations.

Need help?

A dedicated team will be available to support you throughout the transition. If you experience any issues, please contact us emailing Contact_Underwriting@sasria.co.za.

As we continue the road ahead, we thank you for your ongoing partnership and for the valuable feedback that shaped this improvement.

Kind regards,

Themba Sibiyi
